ARENA STAGE ANNOUNCES CAST AND CREATIVE TEAM
FOR ITS TENTH WORLD-PREMIERE POWER PLAY

Exclusion
A New Play by Acclaimed Theater and TV Writer KENNETH LIN
Directed by TRIP CULLMAN

(Washington D.C.) Arena Stage at the Mead Center for American Theater announced today the cast and creative team for the world premiere of Exclusion, a wickedly funny Hollywood-set comedy. Written by acclaimed theater and TV writer Kenneth Lin (Kleptocracy, Warrior Class, Netflix’s House of Cards) and directed by Drama Desk nominee Trip Cullman (The Rose Tattoo, Choir Boy, Lobby Hero), Exclusion will run May 5 – June 25, 2023, in the Kreeger Theater. Press Night will be held on Thursday, May 18 at 8 p.m. For information and tickets, please visit arenastage.org/exclusion.

Exclusion follows Katie, an award-winning historian, who is thrilled when her best-selling book about the Chinese Exclusion Act of 1882 is optioned for a mini-series by a Hollywood mogul. Her euphoria turns to disillusionment as she finds herself constantly defending its authenticity in the struggle between what’s true and what sells.

“Exclusion takes off from the Chinese Exclusion Act of 1882, but it’s written from a contemporary point of view,” says Arena Stage Artistic Director Molly Smith. “It’s a play about who gets to tell the story and what happens when the original storyteller gets shoved to the side. Exclusion is a very American story and Ken Lin is a brilliant storyteller.”

“Audiences should come to see Exclusion because it’s funny,” says Lin. “The great thinker Henri Bergsom wrote in his work Laughter that we laugh at ‘something mechanical encrusted on the living.’ In that vein, Exclusion is my primal scream as an Asian American deep in Hollywood’s trenches, thrown into the mouth of a ventriloquist’s dummy. It is also a fulfillment of my duty as an artist to respond to the moment, and in this particular American moment, we really, really need funny.”

Exclusion is the tenth addition to Arena’s Power Play series. Launched in 2016, this is a 10-year initiative commissioning original works on politics and power, reflecting American diversity and challenges through five cycles and voices—presidential, African American, insider, musical theater, and women’s voices. Previous Power Plays include Lawrence Wright’s Camp David (2014); John Strand’s The Originalist (2015); Jacqueline E. Lawton’s Intelligence (2017); Bob Banghart, Georgia Stitt, and John Strand’s Snow Child (2018); Mary Kathryn Nagle’s Sovereignty (2018); Aaron Posner’s JQA (2019); Eduardo Machado’s Celia and Fidel (2021); Craig Lucas’ Change Agent (2022); and Nathan Alan Davis'
The High Ground (2023). The eleventh Power Play, Kia Corthorn’s Tempestuous Elements, will premiere in February 2024. Exclusion is also the recipient of a prestigious Edgerton Foundation New Play Award.

Musing on Bergsom’s juxtaposition of “mechanical on the living,” Lin continues, “As vital, supple individuals who are in constant danger of calcifying on the lattice of society, we need to be reminding each other to stay ‘living.’ In other words, we laugh together to signal that we’re still game to live together.

“Right now, it feels like we need that in spades. So, I hope that as audiences enter the theater, we can laugh and see each other.

“After all,” Lin questions, “they say that Hollywood is just Washington for ugly people, right?”

Returning to Arena Stage is Tony Nam, who previously appeared in Akeelah and the Bee and Change Agent, as Malcolm. Making their Arena debuts with Exclusion are cast members Karoline (Lincoln Center Theater’s The Hard Problem) as Katie, Josh Stamberg (Hulu’s Fleishman Is in Trouble) as Harry, Michelle Vergara Moore (NBC’s La Brea) as Viola, Karen Li (Contemporary American Theater Festival’s Babel) as the understudy for Katie and Viola, Jonathan Feuer (Shakespeare Theatre’s As You Like It) as the understudy for Harry, and Ryan Dalusung (Everyman Theatre’s The Lion in Winter) as the understudy for Malcolm.

The creative team for Exclusion includes Set Designer Arnulfo Maldonado, Costume Designer Sarah Cubbage, Lighting Designer Adam Honoré, Sound Design Sunny Kil, Original Music Composer Hsin-Lei Chen, Wig Designer Anne Nesmith, Fight Director Sordelet Inc., Dramaturg Jocelyn Clarke, Dramaturg Zoë Elizabeth Lillis, Casting Director Joseph Pinzon, New York Casting Kelly Gillespie, CSA, Stage Manager Christi B. Spann, and Assistant Stage Manager Emily Ann Mellon.

CAST BIOGRAPHIES (in order of appearance)

Karoline (Katie) is an actor, writer, and filmmaker. They are best known for Tom Stoppard’s The Hard Problem (Lincoln Center Theater) and the world premiere of [Veil Widow Conspiracy], for which The New York Times singled them out as “terrific.” They will next be seen as Eleanor Chun in the new Hulu show Death and Other Details. onlykaroline.com IG: @onlykaroline

Josh Stamberg (Harry) As a Washington, D.C. native, Josh is proud to be working at Arena Stage, where he first fell in love with theater. This marks his second collaborations with both Trip Cullman (A Steady Rain by Keith Huff at New York Stage and Film) and Kenneth Lin (Intelligence-Slave at L.A. Theatre Works). Most recently, he played Arthur Miller in the world premiere of Fall by Bernard Weinraub at the Huntington Theatre in Boston. Other theater credits include the world premiere of Meteor Shower by Steve Martin at The Old Globe and Long Wharf Theatre; the title role in The Power of Duff by longtime collaborator (and fellow D.C native) Stephen Belber at the Geffen; developing and starring in the world premiere of Tape by Belber in NY, LA, and London’s West End; the U.S. premiere of The Female of the Species by Joanna Murray-Smith opposite Annette Bening; and Distracted by Lisa Loomer at Roundabout Theatre opposite Cynthia Nixon. His extensive screen work includes Fleishman Is in Trouble opposite Claire Danes, The Time Traveler’s Wife, WandaVision, The Loudest Voice opposite Russell Crowe, The Affair, Nashville, Parenthood, and Drop Dead Diva, among many others. He works frequently with Ojai Playwrights Conference and L.A. Theatre Works, and has recorded numerous titles in the James Bond: 007 radio series for the BBC. Josh lives in Los Angeles with his daughters Vivian and Lena.

Tony Nam (Malcolm) is pleased to be returning to Arena Stage after previously appearing in Akeelah and the Bee and Change Agent (u/s Jack/Cord). He is a member of the Resident Acting Company at Everyman Theatre in Baltimore where he has appeared in Jump, Baskerville, Sense and Sensibility, The Skin of Our Teeth, Cry It Out, Murder on the Orient Express, Everything is Wonderful, and Aubergine. He has appeared in numerous productions with other D.C. area theaters including The Kennedy Center, Ford's Theatre, Folger Theatre, Mosaic Theater Company, Olney Theatre Center, Round House Theatre, Shakespeare Theatre Company, and Woolly Mammoth Theatre Company. Tony holds a BA from St. Mary's College of MD and MFA from the University of Washington.

Michelle Vergara Moore (Viola) is beyond chuffed to be making her Arena Stage debut with Exclusion. Originally from Melbourne, Michelle completed her training at Australia's premiere theater school, the National Institute of Dramatic Art (NIDA), Sydney. Now calling NYC home, Michelle workshopped plays there with Atlantic Theater Company and New Dramatists. Australian stage credits include Veronica in The Motherfer with the Hat and Hermione in The Winter's Tale. She made her U.S. feature film debut in Side Effects, directed by Steven Soderbergh, and was a series regular on La Brea (NBC), The Unusual Suspects (Hulu), and The Time of Our Lives (ABC Australia). Other TV credits include co-starring opposite Bob Balaban on Condor (MGM+) and guest starring in High Maintenance (HBO).

Karen Li (u/s Katie / Viola) is a Baltimore-based actor with a Theatre and Dance double degree from UC San Diego. She most recently appeared onstage in the DMV area in Babel (Contemporary American Theater Festival) and Black Super Hero Magic Mama (Strand Theater). Other favorite theater credits include The Great Leap (Perseverance Theatre), Sunset Park (Theaterlab), Yoshimi Battles the Pink Robots (La Jolla Playhouse), and Dr. Horrible's Sing-Along Blog (Chinese Pirate Productions for San Diego Comic-Con). Karen's TV credits include Dancing with the Stars (Season 10).

Ryan Dalusung (u/s Malcolm) is delighted to be making their Arena Stage debut. Most recently, Ryan appeared in Baltimore as a part of Everyman Theatre’s production of The Lion in Winter, playing King Philip of France. Other regional and D.C. theater credits include Dot (Everyman Theatre), Aladdin and the Wonderful Lamp, Jumanji, The Wonderful Wizard of Oz (Adventure Theatre), Collaborators (Spooky Action Theater), and Murder in the Cathedral (Compass Rose Theater). Ryan also performs as a voice artist and audiobook narrator, including regularly narrating books with the Library of Congress to record unabridged books for the blind. www.RyanDalusung.com IG: @dalusungtheactor
